

How to merge manure sources for a SnapPlus farm in V2:

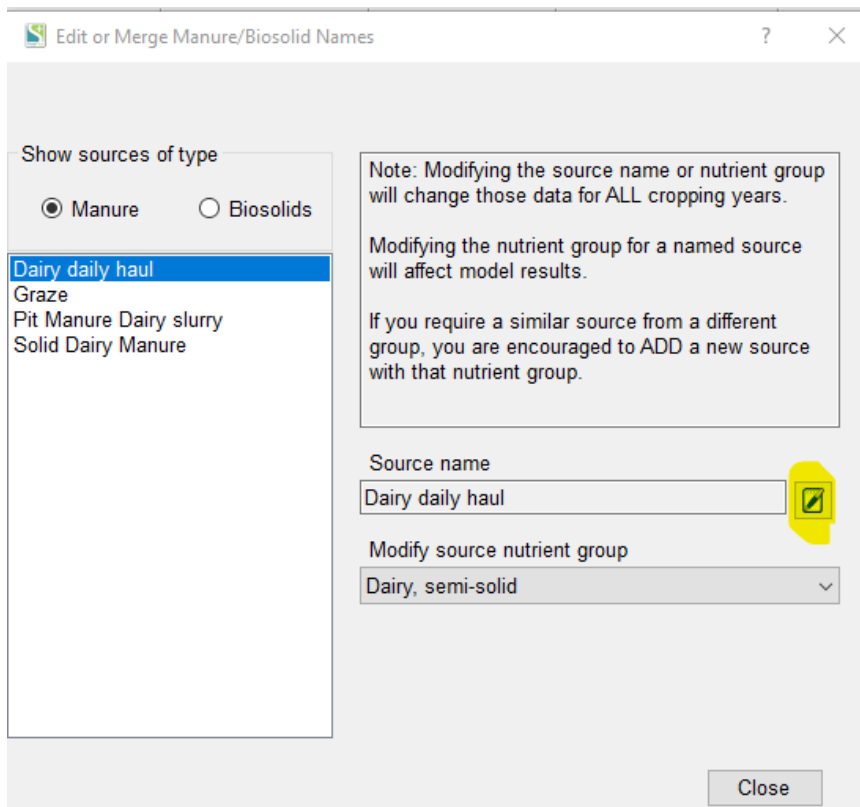

If you have combined several satellite farms into one farm in SnapPlus, you may find that the same manure has two or more different names in the farm database. These instructions tell you how to merge the manures so they all have the same name.

Step A. Take a SnapShot (in case something goes wrong and you need to start over).

Step B. On the Nutrient screen, select the notepad button above the Manure/Bio Source Data table.

This will bring up the Edit or Merge Manure/Biosolid Names box.

Select the manure name you want to change from the list and click on the notepad symbol.

This will bring up a box where you can edit the name. Type in the correct name of this manure source.

You will see a prompt asking whether you want to Merge nutrient sources.

Click OK and the applications will be changed to the correct source name.
